It commits to support the collection of data on the direct civilian harm and the reverberating effects on civilians and civilian objects resulting from the use of explosive weapons with wide area effects in populated areas, and to contribute to the collection and exchange of information on good practices and lessons learned in minimizing impacts on civilians when using such weapons in populated areas. It further pledges to continue to look for effective measures to strengthen the respect for international humanitarian law in this regard, among them an international political declaration on the issue.</td>

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

The promotion of freedom of expression including the safety of journalists is an Austrian human rights policy priority. At its 39th session, the UN Human Rights Council (HRC) adopted a resolution on the security of journalists, introduced by Austria, by consensus. It underlines the significance of a free, pluralistic and independent media landscape for society, condemns defamation campaigns against the media and calls on political leaders and officials to stop threats, discredit and intimidation of the media and individual journalists. It also calls on States not to abuse laws on defamation to silence critical journalists. During the 2018 HRC Universal Periodic Review of states, Austria also made recommendations regarding the safety of journalists.

Austria has continued to promote an antipersonnel mine free world through the Anti-Personnel Mine Ban Convention. It is committed to reaching an anti-personnel mine-free world by 2025, as agreed during the Maputo review conference in 2014. In December 2018, Austria decided to allocate 2 million EUR for demining and ordnance clearance, as well as for mine risk education in Northeast Syria. On this project, "Explosive Hazards Clearance and Mine Risk Education in North East Syria", Austria collaborates with ITF, a humanitarian organization with more than 20 years of mine action experience worldwide. Additional financial support was given to the Implementation Support Unit of the Convention, and to the International Coalition to Ban Landmines.

Austria is heading the like-minded core group of states against the use of Explosive Weapons in Populated Areas. Austria supports the implementation of the UN Secretary General's proposal for a political declaration on the commitment of participating states for a better implementation of international humanitarian law and continues to work for awareness raising on this topic in international fora.

Austria also uses every possibility to promote the universalization of the Convention on Cluster Munitions.

2. A. Please select no more than 3 key challenges faced in implementing the commitments related to this transformation. Only the categories selected by the organisation will be seen below.

☐ Field conditions, including insecurity and access
☐ IHL and IHRL compliance and accountability

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

Progress on these initiatives depends not only on State adherence to international humanitarian law (IHL) and to human rights law, but also on the practices of non-state actors during armed conflict.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

The universal adherence to the provisions of the Anti-Personnel Mine Ban Convention remains a collective goal. More States need to be called upon to turn their attention to and to address the humanitarian consequences of Explosive Weapons in Populated Areas (EWIPA), with the aim of the protection of civilians (PoC) in armed conflicts through the implementation of a political declaration on the use of EWIPA.

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

Austria co-sponsored various initiatives that cover the violation of IHL and/or the humanitarian situation of the relevant countries in the Human Rights Council (HRC) as well as at the UN General Assembly. Austria made national statements that also referred to the humanitarian situation of the relevant countries, e.g. in the interactive dialogue with the International and Independent Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar. Lectures/seminars on IHL and the protection of civilians (PoC) are integrated in the military training and education at all levels. For recruits and non-commissioned officers, the focus of the training is at the individual level (Code of Conduct, etc.). For officers, the focus of the training lies on the role and responsibility of military leaders at different levels of command. The topic support to humanitarian assistance is an integral part of various scenarios used for the training. Training contents are revised regularly and adapted if necessary.

☑ Multi-stakeholder coordination

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

Progress on these initiatives depends not only on State adherence to IHL and to human rights law, but also on the practices of non-state actors during armed conflict.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

It is necessary to continue training and education based on prior experiences and to adapt training contents in an evolving way, if necessary.

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

Ongoing breaches of IHL, especially attacks on medical personnel, transports and facilities, make it necessary to strengthen or establish procedures ensuring the accountability of perpetrators. Independent fact-finding missions and commissions of inquiry play a crucial role for the investigation of allegations of grave breaches and serious violations of IHL. Austria continues to support the independent fact-finding missions and commissions of inquiry such as the Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Syrian Arab Republic. Austria is fully committed to cooperating with the Commission by assuring to welcome its expert mission to Austria. Moreover, Austria continues to support the International Humanitarian Fact-Finding Commission (IHFFC) under Art. 90 of Additional Protocol I to the Geneva Conventions and hopes that after its first activation during the AT OSCE Chairmanship in 2017 in Ukraine the IHFFC can soon be operational in other cases as well, also by making use of its good offices.

Austria has used its EU Council Presidency in the second half of 2018 to put various IHL topics on the agenda. IHL topics have in particular been discussed in the Council Working Party on Internat. Law (COJUR), International Criminal Law (COJUR ICC) and humanitarian aid (COHAF) as well as in the Political & Security Committee. The Austrian EU Council Presidency aimed at a stronger common performance of the EU, organized coordination meetings and elaborated position papers. Furthermore, Austria strived for enhancing the visibility & coherence of the EU’s efforts in the field of IHL and international criminal law.

Commit to speak out and systematically condemn serious violations of international humanitarian law and serious violations and abuses of international human rights law and to take concrete steps to ensure accountability of perpetrators when these acts amount to crimes under international law.

Implement a coordinated global approach to prevent and respond to gender-based violence in crisis contexts, including through the Call to Action on Protection from Gender-based Violence in Emergencies.

Fully comply with humanitarian policies, frameworks and legally binding documents related to gender equality, women's empowerment, and women's rights.

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

IHL and IHRL compliance and accountability
The Ministry for Foreign Affairs (MFA) and Austria Red Cross organized a humanitarian law seminar on 29 January 2019 that was well received and attended by professionals, journalists, volunteers, and students. It focused on IHL developments during Austria's EU Council Presidency. At this event, various speakers presented their experiences in the field of IHL matters addressed by the EU.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) organized Module 3 of the 9th Vienna Course on International Law for Military Legal Advisers in 2018. Furthermore, the preparations for the 10th Vienna Course on International Law for Military Legal Advisers took place in 2018, since the 10th Vienna Course will be held at the beginning of 2019.

In 2018, the MoD, together with the MFA, the MFI and the Austria Study Centre for Peace and Conflict Resolution, organized twice the UN- & ESDC-certified “Course on the Protection of Civilians in Armed Conflict (PoC)”. The course targets senior experts and decision-makers working with or in the context of peacekeeping operations in complex emergencies requiring PoC. The overall course objective is to enable graduates to improve their understanding of the various mandates of operating actors in PoC, identify options for coordinated and joint actions and measures for a more effective PoC in conflict zones.

Gender-based violence prevention and response
The fight against discrimination and the improvement of the situation of women and girls worldwide is a long-standing concern of the Austrian foreign and development policy – at its heart the implementation of the Women, Peace and Security agenda, the political and economic empowerment of women, as well as the fight against gender based violence. Particular focus is placed on combating female genital mutilation (FGM), with Austrian Civil Society Organization projects being launched in Ethiopia and Burkina Faso, with funding from Austria. In 2018, Austria earmarked around 2.5 million EUR to help victims of FGM.

During the Austrian EU presidency, Austria organized or supported a series of events highlighting the broad scope of women’s issues. Austria supported Amnesty International that organized an expert panel discussion on "Defending Women – Defending Rights". Women Human Rights Defenders (WHRD)’ Perspectives and Challenges". The EU ratification of the Istanbul Convention has been one of the priorities in the Austrian EU presidency.

Other
The Austrian Development Agency also fosters programmes to promote the engagement of men and boys inter alia to change behavior and attitude regarding sexual and gender based violence such as a project with CARE Austria in South East Europe called “YMI II - Young Men Initiative” (Oct. 2017-Sept.2020) implemented in cooperation with four local partners in Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo and Serbia. The project aims to enable positive and peaceful societies for young people, especially young men vulnerable to violence and anti-social behavior in Serbia, Kosovo, Albania and Bosnia and Herzegovina. The project’s specific objective is to improve Youth NGOs and government capacities to integrate Program Youth - Life Skills Educational Curriculum in current educational and youth policy strategies.

2. A. Please select no more than 3 key challenges faced in implementing the commitments related to this transformation. Only the categories selected by the organisation will be seen below.

- Funding modalities (earmarking, priorities, yearly agreements, risk aversion measures)
- Multi-stakeholder coordination
- Other: Funding amounts, Human resources/capacity, strengthening national/local systems

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?
The discussion of complex legal matters in a foreign language represents a challenge which makes the preparations for the Vienna Course on International Law for Military Legal Advisers complicated and time-consuming.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

Meetings, consultations and discussions with everyone involved are needed to make collective progress.

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

Austria has been promoting better IHL implementation for many years. Within the framework of the intergovernmental process on strengthening respect for IHL, facilitated by the ICRC and Switzerland, Austria has advocated and supported the establishment of a regular, focused and safe space for dialogue on strengthening IHL compliance. Austria actively participated in the Fourth and Fifth Formal Meeting of the aforementioned intergovernmental process in 2018. Austria regrets the disappointing development of the process and supports the continuation of the important discussions on how to achieve better IHL implementation. Austria continues to call for respect for IHL also in the framework of existing fora.

On the occasion of the 20th anniversary of the adoption of the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court (ICC), Austria has been instrumental in ensuring European Council Conclusions to celebrate the achievements in the field of international criminal justice and highlight the valuable ICC contribution to the fight against impunity.

Following Austria’s engagement to initiate the process that led to the negotiation and subsequent adoption, in 2017, of the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons, Austria ratified the treaty in 2018. Austria participated in the fourth Conference of States Parties to the Arms Trade Treaty, provided expertise and supported UN Program of Action efforts to curb the illegal transfer of conventional weapons. Furthermore, Austria supported the plan for an initiative to control small arms and light weapons in the Western Balkans.

Austria also advocates for a legally binding instrument prohibiting Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems (LAWS) which are not under meaningful human control. Austria supports a ban of the use and the development of such systems. Austria has called for a preventive ban at the meeting of the Group of Governmental Experts on LAWS in the framework of the Convention on Certain Conventional Weapons.

☑ Human resources/capacity
☑ IHL and IHRL compliance and accountability
☑ Institutional/Internal constraints

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

Nuclear weapons are still central to the security strategies of some States. This results in the lack of implementation of Article VI of the Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) regarding disarmament and some reluctance to ratify the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

Reassessment of the role of nuclear weapons in security concepts in light of the humanitarian consequences and inherent risks of these weapons and further, full implementation of Art. VI of the NPT, for which the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons is an instrument in order to achieve a nuclear weapon free world. There has to be an active outreach to achieve 50 ratifications of the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons swiftly for its entry into force.

1. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

Empowerment of women and girls

The empowerment of women and girls is a priority and integral part of the Austrian Development Agency's projects and programs. The Austrian Development Cooperation is actively promoting the empowerment of women at the household, community, regional and national levels, i.e. through UN Women in Georgia, and through CARE in Uganda, Rwanda and Ethiopia.

Peace & Humanitarian Fund: a partnership between the UN, Member States and civil society. Austria supported the fund with 2 million EUR thus becoming its biggest donor. The contribution goes to projects in Iraq supporting the training of women as local mediators, women journalists and teachers. Women are trained to recognize signs of conflict at an early stage and to develop counter-strategies. Women's organizations are strengthened in order to conduct a more intensive dialogue with state institutions and better represent their concerns and needs.

General assembly of “we4DRR” (“women exchange for disaster risk reduction”): an international network coordinated by the Federal Ministry of Sustainability and Tourism, catering for female experts (practitioners, researchers and policy makers) working in the field of natural hazards and disaster risk reduction. The experience within the network internal discussion showed the importance and the "right-time" now to highlight the gender issue in the field of natural risk management.

Sexual and reproductive health

In May 2018, the Austrian Development Cooperation launched a call for Austrian NGOs for projects addressing Female Genital Mutilation (FGM). The selected projects also aim at improving the access to quality reproductive and sexual health services for women. The Austrian Development Agency supported UNICEF Burkina Faso to advance and finalize the implementation of its Country Programme. Main objectives were the promotion of girls’ education and physical / social wellbeing by improvement of hygiene and sanitation standards in schools in the Sahel Region. The additional funding contributed to the abandonment of child marriage and female genital mutilation/cutting in 200 villages in the Sahel region including Malian refugee camps. The Austrian Development Agency continued the cooperation with UNICEF in Burkina Faso with an increased focus on sexual and reproductive health (FGM, Sanitation, MHM). The Austrian Development Agency also contributes to the UNFPA Jordan Response Plan in the Health Sector/Sexual reproductive Rights. The programme aims at delivering/improving access to lifesaving basic emergency obstetric and neonatal care services to the Syrian refugees in Zaatari camp.

☐ Data and analysis
☐ Human resources/capacity
☐ Other: Multi-stakeholder coordination, Institutional/Internal constraints, Gender and/or vulnerable group inclusion

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

Regarding “we4DRR”: to promote the network, a variety of different stakeholder has to be identified across different sectors. To address the institutional constraints more efforts are needed to ensure that the institutions' capacity on gender are strengthened, especially concerning humanitarian aid and gender.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

Improved coordination between actors also on lessons learned and good practices to ensure we can leverage on successes.
Regarding “we4DRR”: the bigger the network the bigger will be the awareness about necessity of including gender issues in the frame of natural risk management.

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

A rights-based approach and an emphasis on the inclusion of vulnerable groups, including persons with disabilities and elderly persons, continues to be a key principle for the Austrian Development Cooperation (ADC) when contributing to humanitarian programs and projects. For instance, inclusion of vulnerable groups has been a requirement for several years for Austrian NGOs to be able to receive ADC humanitarian funding. Moreover, in 2018, ADC continued to support specific humanitarian programs aimed at persons with disabilities, such as, for instance, the "Disability and Mine Action" Appeal of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) in Syria and Ukraine.

Austria has continued to implement the existing set of measures to turn a human-rights-based approach to disaster risk management into reality. The new warning system via mobile app which was launched in 2017 was further promoted; a cooperation with the national weather service was established to enhance the frequency accuracy of weather warnings. The annual Children’s Safety Olympics which were extended for the first time to elderly people last year, were again carried out in 2018. Barrier-free access to information about civil protection and disaster management is provided on websites of the Ministry of the Interior.

☑ Data and analysis
☑ Gender and/or vulnerable group inclusion

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

In sudden-onset disasters and armed-conflicts it remains challenging for partners to really generate disaggregated data on the various vulnerable groups. Unless support to vulnerable groups is a specific focus of an intervention, it is difficult to really know to what extent these groups have been reached.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

Collective donor engagement and common donor requirements on the mainstreaming of vulnerable groups in all interventions in order to achieve the Agenda 2030 objective to Leave No One Behind. One aspect could be to increase funding opportunities for developing partners’ capacities in this regard (i.e. training; awareness raising).

Cash-based programming

In 2018, the Austrian Development Cooperation (ADC) has continued to ensure that the humanitarian programs and projects it funds use cash transfer as an aid modality wherever possible and feasible. To that end, ADC works with professional implementing partners experienced in that modality, such as WFP, UNHCR, ICRC and qualified Austrian NGOs in areas such as food and livelihoods assistance and/or support to displaced populations and their host communities.

☑ Other: Lack of budget available for cash preparedness, i.e. for developing local partners’ capacities for cash-based programming.

2. B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

Programs are less sustainable and more expensive; prioritizing investment in capacity development of local systems is not possible.
3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

Awareness in the donor community that in order to strengthen local systems in the area of cash-based programming, it would be necessary to have larger budgets available for disaster preparedness including cash preparedness.

Preparedness

Ministry of the Interior: Exercises were carried out on national strategic level to enhance preparedness for new types of threats like hybrid threats.

Disaster risk reduction and disaster risk management (including resilience)

- In 2018, the Austrian Development Cooperation (ADC) has continued to co-finance measures for DRR implemented by Austrian civil society organizations together with local partners, in countries such as Armenia and Georgia.
- Ministry of Sustainability and Tourism: Continuous investment in disaster risk reduction has led to a significant reduction of losses from disasters. Responsibilities for risk prevention and mitigation are shared among the different government levels. A significant increase in capacity to enable co-operation for coordinating strategies and policies across ministries and sectors. Also active engagement by citizens exposed to natural hazards in helping to address risks.
- Continuing networking in Austria’s Platform for DRR.
- secure funding.

Disaster risk data collection/analysis
Ministry of the Interior: An updated national risk assessment was completed in 2018. Furthermore, an assessment of national risk management capabilities was carried out together with other relevant national and regional stakeholders.

☐ Funding amounts
☐ Gender and/or vulnerable group inclusion
☐ Other: protective infrastructure maintenance, awareness for/separation of public/individual responsibility - ) [Austrian Development Cooperation:] flexibility of budget available for DRR

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?
- to find a balance between investments into new protective infrastructure and the need to maintain the existing one.
- to integrate all relevant sectors and stakeholders through a risk management approach.
- if not explicitly focused, vulnerable groups tend to get side-lined.
- inclusion measures often exceed funding and organizations’ implementation capacities.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?
A commitment agreed upon by all donors and other stakeholders in one region that interventions are designed with specific and measurable results on the inclusion of vulnerable groups within DRR programming.

Other

Local civil society organizations in 2018 have continued to play a key role in many humanitarian assistance and related projects and programs supported by the Austrian Development Cooperation (ADC), including immediate humanitarian aid, resilience, recovery, support to IDPs, refugees and host communities in displacement settings. With key partners of ADC such as the Red Cross/Red Crescent Movement and Austrian civil society project partners, such as Caritas Austria or CARE Austria, capacity strengthening of their local civil society partners in the target country is usually one of the intended results of the program/project.

☑ Funding modalities (earmarking, priorities, yearly agreements, risk aversion measures)
☑ Joined-up humanitarian-development analysis, planning, funding and/or response

B. How are these challenges impacting achievement of this transformation?

Frequently, humanitarian and development funding modalities are still parallel ones, and national/local actors continue to have to orient themselves on donor’s funding modalities. Thus, investing in the development national/local capacities still tends to lack in efficiency, coherence and, subsequently, sustainability.

3. What steps or actions are needed to make collective progress to achieve this transformation?

Increased and improved coordination and communication among donors and improved coherence and complementarity of funding instruments.

Austria continues to advocate within the Boards of the International Financial Institutions, including the different funds associated with them, that institutions deliver a relevant, coherent and cost effective set or instruments to respond to crisis and disasters, in particular to support hosts in coping with large refugee caseloads. Austria disbursed the second installment committed under the International Development Association (IDA) 17 (see 3A).

In 2018, Austria again provided significant recourses to humanitarian agencies and/or organizations of the United Nations (UN) System, the Red Cross/Red Crescent Movement, and Austrian non-governmental organizations (NGOs) responsible for their local partners. The main focus of Austria's support was internally displaced people (IDPs) in Syria and Iraq as well as Syrian refugees in the region. In 2018, Austria also provided significant resources to the European Union (EU) Refugee Facility for Turkey.
