Where did your organization stand on these issues prior to making these commitments

The membership of the ACT Alliance is comprised of more than 140 faith-based member organizations with very different profiles, focus areas and origins. Many of them are combining development and humanitarian efforts in their portfolio, or being local in the area of operations. One of the objectives for members of the alliance is to use our influence with our constituencies, civil society and Government leaders to promote stability and long-term community reconciliation, strengthen social cohesion and address grievances.

Achievements at a glance

We have started to work jointly on a list of different potential action points which could help the ACT Alliance and their members to work on this commitment. The ACT Advocacy mechanism is currently being reviewed to be more responsive to advocacy needs on the ground, especially in humanitarian crises. This mechanism is expected to facilitate the development of key messages for government and duty bearers, and other stakeholders, on actions that would be needed to promote stability and long-term community reconciliation, strengthen social cohesion and address grievances.

Challenges faced in implementation

At this stage of the implementation process, no significant challenges have yet been encountered.

Next step to advance implementation in 2017

During spring 2017, we are planning to set up a clearer road map of the future of the implementation. There is already a collection of different ideas to pursue in the direction, which include to:
- Further pilot ACT Alliance’s humanitarian advocacy tool
- Improve relevant training material, such as developing a capacity building module on humanitarian advocacy

Challenges faced in implementation

At this stage of the implementation process, no significant challenges have been identified.

Next step to advance implementation in 2017

The ACT Secretariat will implement the global roll-out of the revised Humanitarian Response Mechanism for members beginning June 2017. This process is expected to strengthen the application of humanitarian principles and accountability in our work, as well as the integration of the unique advantages of faith-based organisations in delivering humanitarian response. In Spring 2017, the Alliance is planning to set a road map of the future of implementation. This will include the following directions: improvement of relevant training material, creation of an online exchange for discussion and reflection on specific issues; an opinion paper on faith-based organizations and humanitarian principles Commit to a new way of working that meets people's immediate humanitarian needs, while at the same time reducing risk and vulnerability over multiple years through the achievement of collective outcomes. To achieve this, commit to the following: a) Anticipate, Do Not Wait: to invest in risk analysis and to incentivize early action in order to minimize the impact and frequency of known risks and hazards on people. b) Reinforce, Do Not Replace: to support and invest in local, national and regional leadership, capacity strengthening and response systems, avoiding duplicative international mechanisms wherever possible. c) Preserve and retain emergency capacity: to deliver predictable and flexible urgent and life-saving assistance and protection in accordance with humanitarian principles. d) Transcend Humanitarian-Development Divides: work together, toward collective outcomes that ensure humanitarian needs are met, while at the same time reducing risk and vulnerability over multiple years and based on the comparative advantage of a diverse range of actors. The primacy of humanitarian principles will continue to underpin humanitarian action.

Where did your organization stand on these issues prior to making these commitments

The ACT Alliance wanted to increase substantially cash transfer programming in order to support people agency and strengthen local structures and resources. We wanted to see a change in policy where cash is seen as the preferred option by donors, decision makers and implementing organizations. In practice we want to see in-kind inputs to be replaced by cash if feasible in the given context, and we want to be a learning community where we actively contribute to new knowledge, capacities and best practices on cash transfer programming.

Achievements at a glance

ACT Alliance members have continued to promote and support cash transfer programming in their humanitarian interventions. ACT members have carried out a number of studies, project and program evaluations to assess outcomes and learning. In the revised ACT humanitarian response mechanism, we have integrated cash transfers as one of the main modes of delivery. This element will be followed-through in subsequent capacity building activities with staff, members and country forums.

How is your organization assessing progress

Progress and impact is measured using the systems of each ACT Alliance member and at the ACT Alliance Secretariat. Evaluations are done by ACT Alliance members in their current systems. The ACT Secretariat and Humanitarian Policy and Practice Group will seek to integrate cash programming in monitoring and evaluation systems for ACT Appeals and Rapid Response Funds. ACT will develop a 2016 baseline to enable tracking of progress. Several ACT Alliance members will also report to International Aid.
Transparency Initiative and directly or indirectly to Grand Bargain on these developments.

Challenges faced in implementation

ACT Alliance membership is composed of 140 independent organisations across the world, with their own governance, so it is not entirely straightforward to introduce cash programming as a preferred mode across the Alliance, and in some parts of the world (e.g. LAC), receptivity to cash modalities is slower to embed. Context will still need to be considered as a primary consideration in implementing this commitment.

Next step to advance implementation in 2017

ACT Alliance will continue to advocate and work for increased use of cash transfers in humanitarian response through promotion and technical support to cash based programming, capacity building and studies.

Where did your organization stand on these issues prior to making these commitments

The membership of the ACT Alliance has a common understanding that efforts need to be made to strengthen the resilience of affected communities as well as strengthening local capacities. This will be achieved by reforming the ACT Rapid Response Fund (RRF) so that it is targeted exclusively for national and local members and incentivizes greater investment in emergency preparedness, disaster risk reduction and resilience. More specifically, the aim is to enable first responders to conduct immediate emergency response programming focused on saving lives, over a three month timeframe and provide additional funding to members having early preparedness and response plans.

Achievements at a glance

A revised RRF policy was drafted and approved which states the following:
• Only national ACT members are eligible for rapid response funds
• Forums/members with up-to-date Emergency Preparedness and Response Plans (EPRPs) are eligible for additional funding and projects can have longer lifespans
• RRF funds can also be used to cover the cost of replenishment of a member’s in-country stocks which were used in the emergency response

The RRF template & process/protocol were revised and streamlined so as to be more accessible to local/national and less time-consuming.

Challenges faced in implementation

No significant challenges to report at this point in time.

Next step to advance implementation in 2017
In Spring 2017, we are planning to set-up a small working group/think tank around the early preparedness and response plans (EPRP) tool and its associated process that will be tasked to revise this tool and establish an action plan for its improvement. In Spring 2017 and Summer 2017, forums & members will receive trainings on the revised humanitarian response mechanism (including the Rapid Response Funds tools & process) to ensure strengthened capacities of members and a higher quality of programming.

Where did your organization stand on these issues prior to making these commitments

The ACT Alliance wanted to achieve an actual change in both policy, behavior AND most importantly practice in terms of more resources and more decision making power available directly to community- and locally-led crisis responses. Most members of the ACT Alliance have for decades sought to empower locally-led crisis responses. This is reflected in policy documents and guidance. In line with the outcomes of the Grand Bargain, the ACT Alliance committed itself to streamlining and harmonizing requirements for partners; which includes a commitment to not ask more from local and national members than what donors ask of funding members.

Achievements at a glance

• 9 ACT members have signed the Charter 4 Change (C4C) commitments in favor of increased locally-led responses as either signatories or endorsers. ACT C4C members are in the process of seeking to publicize the initiative within ACT.
• Several ACT members have committed resources to test a new response tool to bolster Locally-led crisis Responses (SLR). The SLR initiative is being tested in two major emergencies with plans to cover another 6-8 projects and areas. ACT revised the rules of its Rapid Response Fund so that only national members are eligible, as contribution to the Grand Bargain agenda.
• The tools of ACT’s humanitarian response mechanism were revised to reduce workload on reporting for local and national members. The reporting requirements draw from the initiative “less paper, more aid” and mirror GPPI’s “10 + 3” reporting in that they are only required to report information commonly required by back donors in a very concise manner.

How is your organization assessing progress

• ACT Alliance members are among the driving forces in the first individual and collective Charter 4 Change (C4C) reporting in May 2017 and to be followed up in the years to come. Through C4C, ACT members are also participating in the “localization working group”, PACT and other Grand Bargain and WHS related monitoring/ tracking of these commitments.
• ACT will establish clearer indicators to associate with its WHS commitments in order to enable more systematic tracking of progress.
• ACT will investigate the best way to ensure that in future ACT appeals are well-positioned to automatically track amount of funding channeled through local actors.

Challenges faced in implementation

The biggest challenge faced so far is the reluctance harbored by donors and many INGO’s/UN agencies to truly relinquish decision making power over programmatic priorities and real control over financial resources to locally-led crisis responses. Despite the rhetorical commitments (including WHS and Grand Bargain) most donors and international humanitarian actors appear reluctant to accept that a more effective, holistic and locally-led crisis response presupposes that international actors reduce their role, size and share in decision making over the actual programming and project activities if locally-led/frontline-led responses are ever to flourish.

Next step to advance implementation in 2017

ACT Alliance will continue to advocate for more ACT and non-ACT members to engage in C4C and the WHS/GB processes on localization. ACT members involved in the SLR will continue to solicit political support and resources for this approach. This will include a generation of lessons learned and dissemination to the humanitarian community. We will showcase best practice examples at the Global Platform in Cancun in May and the Joint Learning Initiative Localization and Faith Conference in Sri Lanka in October. We will engage proactively with the Switzerland-IFRC Grand Bargain workstream on localization to promote our perspectives.

If you had one message for the annual report on what is most needed to advance the transformation Diversify the resource base and increase cost-efficiency, what would it be

International humanitarian actors including donors need to accept that a more effective, holistic and locally-led crisis response presupposes that they (international actors) gradually reduce their role, size and share in decision making over the actual programming and project activities if locally-led/frontline-led responses are ever to flourish.
